the mistress of the quill position is officially open for nominations; we will vote on it at the December meeting.

SMYAL: Joy! presented a plan for the next meeting, but she would like to put her novice on hold, and the third reason that she feels that SMYAL is not being very forthcoming in helping the organization. Her giant heels haven't been able to squash what she thought was. Thought of transitioning the November 13th BHH to a different event at all.

Vajejan: novice project - same boat but for a very different reason, health reason with pregnancy, she is hoping for a date and may be postponed until January because her novice event is running on her pregnancy and that is not going as expected. She is hoping for a simulcast event on both the East and West coast and looking for the Sisters to be there and help out and pizza. Shares an office building with the KOCH brothers, so not a whole lot of public knowledge. She is in our thoughts and prayers and WOOT WOOT bedrest by hell!
